Information and Instruction for Applicants for Registration as Professional Engineers with Model Law Engineer Designation

These instructions are only for current National Council of Examiners for Engineering and Surveying (NCEES) record holders who have been designated by NCEES as Model Law Engineers (MLE). The MLE application process is an attempt by the Board and NCEES to streamline the application process for obviously qualified applicants. The MLE designation tells the Board that the applicant has an EAC/ABET degree, four years of engineering experience, has passed two eight-hour NCEES examinations, and has no record of disciplinary action. The Board has other methods of obtaining registration in North Dakota for non-NCEES record holders or non-MLE applicants. For information on NCEES records or the MLE designation, you may contact NCEES at www.ncees.org.
